E.G. MCCARTHY

CIA

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D., Minn.) opened an attack on the appointment of John A. McCone as director of the Central Intelligence Agency. He said he was inclined to vote against Mr. McCone, but most of his speech was of control over the CIA. Mr. McCone's nomination is expected to receive Senate confirmation despite Sen. McCarthy's attack, which he indicated would be based on a charge that the Californian's business holdings would amount to a conflict of interest. (UPI)
